A One of It’s Kind Business Event

paf Ireland is a brand-new industry event launching this September, bringing together the professionals shaping the future of sport, leisure and physical activity facilities across Ireland.

Following the success of our established UK, Scottish and European forums, this will be the first event of its kind in Ireland, creating a dedicated space for industry leaders to connect, collaborate and share ideas.

Designed for facility owners and operators, local authorities, universities, schools, architects, contractors, manufacturers and suppliers, the forum offers a valuable opportunity to meet peers, build relationships and learn from experts across the Irish sector.

Discover the latest products, innovations and solutions in the physical activity facilities and development sector, while forming new partnerships and industry connections.

For Suppliers
A real opportunity to do business

paf Ireland provides an excellent opportunity for suppliers to connect with operators, local authorities, school leaders, project managers, architects, contractors and other senior-level professionals involved in the development and management of sports and leisure facilities across Ireland.

The forums are built around a proven format that brings suppliers and buyers together, helping you build valuable relationships with the people actively involved in operating and delivering leisure, wellness and physical activity facilities.

Through pre-arranged meetings, suppliers can meet directly with the organisations and decision-makers they want to meet, ensuring meaningful and productive conversations throughout the event.

Alongside the meetings programme and expert seminars with leading industry speakers, attendees can continue building connections during our lunches, coffee breaks, gala dinner and networking drinks, providing a relaxed environment to strengthen relationships and explore new opportunities.

For Buyers
Attend paf Ireland as a complimentary buyer

The forum brings together owners and operators, local authorities, universities, school leaders, project managers, architects, contractors and other senior professionals looking to improve their facilities, discover new solutions and strengthen their supply chains.

You'll benefit from thought-provoking seminars, meetings with leading manufacturers and suppliers, and valuable networking opportunities with industry peers.

Meet Leading Suppliers

Finding the right suppliers can be time-consuming. We've done the hard work for you by bringing together some of the most innovative companies in the sector, delivering the widest range of products and solutions paf Ireland provides a proven format where buyers and suppliers meet to build meaningful business relationships.

Through pre-arranged meetings, you'll connect directly with suppliers relevant to your facilities. Conversations can then continue during coffee breaks, business lunches, networking drinks and our fabulous gala dinner, creating a relaxed environment to build valuable industry connections.
